

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

This chapter will present the conclusions and suggestions of the research that has been conducted by the researcher. It is about creating English-friendly environment for students' growth mindset. The following are the conclusions and suggestions from the results of the research conducted.

5.1 Conclusion

Mindset influences one's ability to learn, lead, achieve, and contribute, with the benefit of mindset promoting wellbeing on an individual and collective level. Creativity of the teacher, and the learning environment both play important roles in growing the mindsets of students about learning English. This underscores the significance of establishing an English-friendly environment as an essential catalyst for nurturing a growth mindset among students engaged in the process of learning the English language. From the data collected and analyzed by the researcher, there are three main factors that become the foundation to create an English friendly learning environment, are engaging and well-equipped physical learning environment, challenging and constructive psychological learning environment, and supportive emotional learning environment. The first factor is providing engaging and well-equipped physical learning environment, which includes learning setting with flexible and engaging student seating arrangement to make it easier for students to discuss with friends, utilizing surrounding nature as learning resources, such as multisensory engagement, practical application, physical movement, visually engaging learning setting, providing posters or pictures, providing videos, providing pictures of European figures, providing well-equipped learning resources, such as providing English texts, providing language laboratory, providing Artificial Intelligence (AI) space/section, providing objects/tools of learning, and providing audio. The second factor is providing challenging and constructive psychological learning environment, including providing differentiated learning, pre-learning conditioning-habituating greetings, learning conditioning-providing dialog space/section, learning conditioning-encouraging practices, giving voice, choices, ownership, and student agency. The third factor is providing supportive emotional learning environment, including pre-learning conditioning-providing mental relaxation, providing rewards for students, creating pleasant atmosphere, and giving motivation.

The requirements for creating an English learning environment for students' growth mindset include practice and actual experience in learning, motivation and positive learning approaches, the influence of social and family environment, utilization of technology and digital media in learning English, creative methods and approaches in teaching, and the role of teacher communities in improving teaching. Practice and actual experience in learning is one part of the physical learning environment, which can be actualized by utilizing surrounding nature as learning resources, such as multisensory engagement, practical application, and physical movement. Motivation and the influence of social and family environment Included in the supportive emotional learning environment section. The family environment is the core influence environment, because most of life of the children (students) is in the family, after that the school and then the community. Parents are the first and main institution for their children, so parents are very obliged to provide motivation to their children and play an important role in the development and growth of children towards learning motivation, especially the willingness and ability to speak English. In addition, utilization of technology or digital media, and creative methods and approaches in learning english is one part of the well-equipped learning resources. It can be actualized by providing Artificial Intelligence (AI) media by providing videos, games, audio, movies, and apps such as YouTube, Duolingo and Memories such a digital media for English language learning. And the role of teacher communities also plays an important role in enhancing creativity in English language learning. To actualized creative English learning, teachers are needed who have the capacity of knowledge, skills and strategies to teach English. Because it plays an important role in developing the mindset of students towards learning English, and is responsible for the success of students in acquiring English proficiency. Therefore, the role of teacher communities to improve English language teaching is necessary in this era. Teachers can share their best teaching materials, method, and experiences on the community. Such as applying problem-based learning, experiential learning, and outing class approaches.

5.2 Suggestions

5.2.1 Further Research

For creating English friendly learning environment, further research can implement the need analysis that has been presented in this study. One of them is engaging and well-equipped physical learning environment by providing posters or pictures of European figures which contain the quotes of motivation. In addition, visual aids containing vocabulary of media, building, and area of the school can be made, which are posted in the school area to trigger students to practice speaking English even though it is not during English class hours.

5.2.2 Teacher

For creating English friendly learning environment, teachers should often attend training to implement innovations in English learning. That way, the various English learning methods and strategies delivered will be more varied, and as an effort to improve students' mindset towards English lessons.

5.2.3 School Administrators (Principles)

For creating English friendly learning environment, the principal should commit with the teachers to organize a language lab at school. Because the language lab can facilitate students to experience learning English in a new environment. In addition, the language lab can also be used as an attraction for students to be more enthusiastic about learning and improve students' mindset towards English lessons.
